DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action represents a Final Office Action for the application titled "SHOWER CADDY FASTENER," filed September 23, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 19, 29, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 19, it is not clear if the applicant is attempting to recite the subcombination of a device, or the combination of the device and a shower caddy having a shaft. The preamble of claim 1 states the former (note "A device comprising"), but then a shaft is positively recited in claim 19 ("...wherein the shaft of an arch or the shaft of a rod fits within said groove such that the shaft is attached to the fastener assembly"). The applicant must make it clear if the shaft is intended to be functionally or positively recited. For instance, modifying claim 19 to read –wherein the groove of said fastener assembly is capable of receiving a shaft of an arch or a shaft of a rod– would recite the shaft merely functionally, and the Examiner will assume this is so for the purposes of this office action.

Art Unit: 3632

3. Claims 29 and 30 recite the limitation "said ledge." There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. It is suggested that applicant rewrite claims 29 and 30 so that they depend from claim 21.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 16-18, and 20-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 3,169,004 to Rapata.

Art Unit: 3632

Rapata discloses a device comprising, in combination: a band (above) extending along an axis, said band having a proximal end (above), distal end (above), upper surface and lower surface, a fastener assembly (above) having an upper portion (above) and lower portion (above), said lower portion of said fastener assembly attached to said proximal end of said band, said upper portion of said fastener assembly having a groove (above) extending along said axis, wherein said band is capable of wrapping around a shaft having said distal end of said band removeably engaging said fastener assembly, wherein said groove snap engages an arch (groove snap engages with an arch of aperture 46c), wherein said fastener assembly is further defined as having a proximal end (above) and distal end (above), wherein said fastener assembly is further defined as comprising a ledge (above) attached to said distal end of said fastener assembly, wherein said distal end of said band is further defined as comprising an aperture (46c) having a proximal and distal edge, wherein said ledge is positioned above the upper surface of said band at a distance which permits said distal edge of said aperture in said distal end of said band, to fit between said ledge and said upper surface of said band, wherein said aperture in said distal end of said band fits over and around said fastener assembly, wherein said distal end of said band is further secured in place to said fastener assembly by said ledge, wherein said band is further defined as being formed from a no-slip material that is flexible and elastic (column 2, lines 25-28), wherein said elastic properties of said band permit said aperture in said distal end of said band to stretch over said ledge and contract around said lower portion of said fastener assembly, wherein said aperture in said distal end of said band is sized to fit closely and securely around said lower portion of said fastener assembly.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 29 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Applicant's Amendments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 16-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Changes to the abstract, specification, and drawings have been acknowledged and accepted.

Applicant's submission of an Information Disclosure Statement has been considered.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
